LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Shaw is proven leader

After Deb and I married, I moved into her Masters Park home in 2001. For years afterward, as I served as our HOA board president, I became acquainted with many of our city and special district leaders; accordingly, I have been comfortable in maintaining these relationships since that time. Since Wynne Shaw joined the Lone Tree City Council eight years ago, when either Deb or I spot an issue that requires city attention, we notified Wynne. She immediately responds, listens carefully to our concerns, and quickly uses her knowledge of city staff, other entities and services to find resolution.

As just one example, though

Southern Hills Circle had originally been a private street in our neighborhood, our HOA deeded it back to the city in 2002 to provide maintenance, plowing, sweeping and repaving. And although the city had repaved and maintained the circle, inexplicably it was not always plowed by the city after snowstorms, which sometimes then left residents with no easy way out of the neighborhood. After a major snowstorm when the circle again was not plowed, we contacted Wynne who quickly worked with staff to get the circle plowed and the city recommitted to plowing and maintaining the street per the 2002 agreement.

Winter or summer, Wynne is there for her constituents. With COVID restrictions in place in August 2020, a flash mob began congregating with no warning in the Lone Tree Hub lot and soon hundreds of people were listening to loud music and becoming disruptive, spilling out into the Parkway and open space. When we contacted Wynne, she quickly determined that no permit had been issued for this event by the city. She immediately contacted the Lone Tree Police Department. Thanks to the LTPD, the crowd was soon safely and peacefully dispersed.

Wynne may be the most responsive, patient, and dedicated public servant who has ever represented Deb and me. She is a rare blend of someone who has a great depth of governmental and financial knowledge and an equal depth of caring and compassion for all whom she represents. We need Wynne to continue her service to Lone Tree.

Please join us in voting for Wynne Shaw for mayor when your ballot arrives in your mailbox, so she can continue working for us all in the years ahead.
